PROJECT

Name: An Intelligent System for Real Time Face Detection and Authentication Using Convolutional Neural Network and Arduino.

Description: In this project, programs were implemented for face detection using the Viola-Jones algorithm, by creating our own database of faces and recognizing faces using the CNN based method in MATLAB software. If an unauthorized person accesses the system, a text message will be sent to the designated user and an image of that person will be stored in a database.

Role: I have collected and trained the dataset to recognize the face of a person.
